W. C. T. U. DISTRICT CONVENTION

A event of more than usual interest took place on Wednesday evening, May 12th, when about twenty of the young ladies of Clareholm, accompanied by several of their friends, motored to Parkland to attend the evening session of the W. C. T. U. district convention, at which they repeated the pageant so successfully presented here a few weeks ago under the auspices of the Y.W.C.T.U. In both performances the girls did themselves credit. In the musical numbers they were assisted by Mrs. C. J. Amundsen and Mr. Sylvan Hillerud, whose services were much appreciated. Misses Madeline McMillan and Mildred Laidlaw also took part in the junior declamatory contest which was put on the same evening.

All join in praise of the generous hospitality of the Parkland ladies who entertained the visitors as well as members of the convention at a sumptuous banquet in the town hall where about 100 guests partook of the supper.

Calgary district includes the city of Calgary and all the towns south as far as Granum. There are in this territory eleven local unions with a total membership of about four hundred. Nine unions were represented. The following Clareholm ladies were in attendance: Mrs. McKinney, Mrs. Hallett, Mrs. G. Ringrose, Mrs. C. Coutts, Mrs. John Dahl, Mrs. B. Nelson and Miss Lena Amundsen. Reports from the various unions showed a great deal of enthusiasm and optimism.

Clareholm has the largest local with a membership of 82, but two of the smaller unions, Okotoks and Calgary East, tied for the honors for greatest percentage of increase in membership—each having made a net gain of fifty per cent.

There are six juvenile branches in the district and one young people's branch—the Clareholm Y. The unions are standing loyally by the plans of the provincial organization and are enthusiastically supporting the budget.

The discussions included various topics all of which centered around one general theme—how can we most effectively carry on an intensive educational campaign in our own locality and many excellent plans were outlined.

For the three months ending March 31 net earnings were $6,531,097, an increase of $2,675,285 over the corresponding period of last year and the best showing for the three months since 1917. The development of tourist traffic to the Dominion has been one of the most noteworthy events of the Canadian economic situation in the post-war period. Holiday makers of the United States apparently find Canada's vacation charm irresistible as the number of visitors shows large increases every year. In 1925 2,422,141 United States' automobiles entered Canada for touring purposes, as compared with 1,869,210 in 1924. A new record is expected this season.

General election date in Alberta has been set for Monday, June 28.

Speaking at the Canadian Daily Newspaper Association meeting at Toronto recently, E. W. Beatty, President of the C.P.E., said there is no class of worker more closely in touch with, or more soundly informed of, the problems of the country's industrial life than the railway and newspaper workers. Each was building up the country as he served the actual needs of the community. Mr. Beatty was impressed by the universal willingness of the Canadian press to get behind appeals that must be made to the public on behalf of works of charity, civic benefit and education.

FIRE THREATENS OUR NATIONAL HERITAGE

Carelessness Destroys
3,000,000 acres
annually of
Canadian Forest

Loss of standing timber by fire continues to be appalling. On the average, over 3,500 million board feet are destroyed annually. The forests of Canada are being depleted at a rate they cannot possibly withstand; more than half of this depletion is due to fire, insects and decay. The future of the forest industry is just as dependent on the seedling trees and young growth as the pulp and paper mills, and industry generally, are dependent on mature timber—both must be saved from the ravages of fire.

In addition to the shelter afforded by the forest to the farmer and his stock, settlers in forested regions are vitally dependent on the woods for winter employment. Care with fire in land-clearing operations is all-essential.—burned timber pays no wages.

Canada has the finest inland fishing in the world, but these splendid food and game fish require clean, cold water in the streams to ensure prolific reproduction. Forest fires are inimical to fish life.

Game animals attract foreign tourists and induce Canadians to seek pleasure, health, and adventure in the great outdoors. These animals are distinctly a forest resource—utterly dependent on it for protection and food. Forest fires are most destructive of such wild life.

Ninety per cent of the forest fires are caused by carelessness. Are you doing your part to prevent this wanton waste and destruction?

Cattle Shipments To Great Britain

The Kind of Live Cattle the British Buyer Demands

In the business of shipping live cattle to the British Isles, the steer which best meets the demand and which is most likely to bring profitable returns to the Canadian shipper is one which weighs between 1,100 and 1,200 pounds. Lighter steers, except in the case of small consignments, are carried a little cheaper, but to overcome the handicap of carrying the same ocean freight rate as heavier ones, and steer over 1,250 pounds have passed the growing stage and can make gains in weight only by laying on fat. A series of vital shipments made by the Dominion experimental farms have brought out these and many other facts which are recorded in a new bulletin on "Shipping Cattle to Britain," which may be obtained free from the Publications Department, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa. These shipments have thrown a great deal of light on the problem of how and when Canada should export cattle. It is found that the short, deep cattle and fat cattle to Great Britain and to what ports they should be sent. It is found that the range from one and a half to three years old may be profitably shipped, but younger steers are preferred. They do not require to be well finished as older, heavier cattle, as their size precludes the possibility of their being sold for immediate slaughter. The cattle shipped should be short legged, deep bodied, blocky animals or of best beef type, and of some recognized breed, such as Angus, Hereford, Angus, or Shorthorn, or good gladders or crosses of these breeds.

Soloist At Seventy-nine

London Lady Has Been Singing For Over Half a Century

A soloist for over 60 years and still a chorist at the age of 79, as well as seeing her son a choir leader and a granddaughter a soloist, is the unique experience of Mrs. John Traher, a member of the St. Michael's choir and possibly the oldest active singer in London today. Mrs. Traher sings with a wealth of musical experience gained through over half a century at the art. She has sung under the direction of her son, Wilfred G. Traher, 362 Malvern Street, who is leader at St. Michael's, and she sings with her granddaughter, Mrs. James Sandford, whose sister also in the same choir. Mrs. Traher's voice is soprano.

Thinks French Premier Needs Pocket Money

Humble Carpenter Sent Aristocrat Bribe One Thousand Francs

Aristide Briand, premier and foreign minister of France, has returned to a humble carpenter of the town of Moulins the sum of 1,000 francs sent him for "pocket money." "I have just learned," the carpenter wrote M. Briand, "that you are paid only 50,000 francs a year" (roughly $12,500). "Please find enclosed a thousand francs for your individuals." The carpenter, it appears, has been a lifelong admirer of M. Briand and acted out of generosity, with no thought of gaining publicity.

Was Not Ashamed Of Calling

A well-known negro minister was being examined as a witness by opposing counsel.

"You are in the minister business," inquired the lawyer.

"Yes, sir," was the reply.

"Is not that rather a shady calling?"

"I don't know but what it is, sir," replied the witness, "but it is no much better than my father's. He was not ashamed of it."

"What was your father's calling?" he was asked.

"He was an attorney, sir."

Unearthing Cliffs Of Past

Discoveries Reveal Ancient Britain More Advanced Than History Shows

Britain's history of the past, when the Romans came, is not quite as we used to read it in our history books, says a writer in a London paper. He writes like that of the beautiful bronze shield in the bed of the Thames, near Battersea, reveals a modern artifact. No doubt the savage wood-fattened one we had pictured.

That shield, the centre of which was artistically inlaid with different colors of enamel, could not have been more skillfully designed or better executed than a modern artifact.

Some years ago a workman digging at Clad Hill, near Rochester, in Kent found a little model, out of which rolled eleven small wheels. They belonged to a period three centuries before Christ, and were Greek coins.

Remembering that we are now being made of ancient foundations and roadways, every trace of which had seemed to be obliterated by the centuries of barbarism. The flying met with their cameras recently supplied photographs that indicated a great deal of the past. The roadways along which our forefathers must have travelled to this old place of meeting and of human sacrifices. Excavators, following the indications of the photographs, have dug up the earth and found traces of the great road which varies from 10 to 114 ft. wide.

Making B.C. Roads Safe

Drastic Regulations Will Be Made For Bus Lines

Regulations framed to make British Columbia's roads safer for the public are announced by Hon. W. H. Patten, minister of public works, to be brought into effect in May. Reminders of the regulations will be varied according to the season of the year; a summer and winter season being established for this purpose.

Bus lines will be brought under drastic regulations to protect their passengers and smaller cars. All buses will operate on a schedule approved by the minister of public works and on a speed fixed in this schedule. But drivers will have to post bonds to guarantee compensation to passengers in case of accident.

Real Object Of Education

Should Fit Pupil For Continuing Education After Leaving School

The statement was made by a speaker at one of the meetings of the Ontario Education Association that people no longer study during school hours, and are not likely to keep up their studies after leaving school.

It can be shown that there is foundation for such a statement, then it is a serious reflection on the educational system. The one thing which a real educational system should do for a pupil is to fit him for continuing his studies after leaving school. It is the great utility of life that most people have the opportunity of acquiring a real education. The most that even the best school can do for a pupil is to prepare him to be a student.—Woodstock Sentinel-Review.

Post-War Record For Immigration

The colonization department of the Canadian National Railways claims records for post-war immigration for the first quarter of 1926, with over 12,000 new settlers carried between Halifax and Montreal.

This is 100 per cent more than the total for the first period last year. The number handled through the Winnipeg office is reported as over 2,000 in excess of last year's figures for the corresponding period.

Human Society Medal

George Graves, of Victoria, B.C., has been awarded the Royal Humane Society bronze medal for saving a young woman from drowning. It was awarded at the society's headquarters.

A number of other awards have been made, including a parchment to Eric Butler, of Melville Hill, Alta., for bravery.

Revenue From Game In Alberta

Revenue from game for the province from game and fur taken in the province during 1925, made available through the office of game commission, shows that the Alberta department of agriculture, whose the total revenue was about $2,500,000, instead of $1,500,000 as first estimated.

British Law Lessens Crime

Strict Enforcement No Doubt Accounts For Low Record

The statement has often been made that Britain has the lowest crime record of any nation, and the statement is substantiated by statistics recently secured by H. S. Morton, of the Toronto Telegram, who called at the crime and statistics bureau in the home office in London.

Mr. Morton claims that Canada should follow the example of Britain. He says that the British and United States and introduce the quota law in order to keep foreigners out of this country, and thus avoid the trouble into which the republic has fallen.

That application of the figures does not seem practical. Britain stands at the gateway of Europe and foreigners come and go there with little restriction. The plain fact is that foreigners and others who may have an inclination toward murder know that there is a strict and fearless enforcement of law in Britain. They have from the experience of many years that the murderer has not much of a chance to escape; they are also conscious that once he is apprehended, he must appear in a court where evidence is thoroughly secured and as thoroughly presented.

It has also been demonstrated that the British courts have successfully stood out against the tendency to introduce material evidence of the sort that is making United States' courts incompetent.

The reason for Britain's low crime record is right in Britain itself.

Clear Atmosphere

Owing to the clear atmosphere it is possible to see 200 miles in certain parts of Alberta, as against an average of 50 miles elsewhere in the west.

The reason for this is that what can be done in this direction are to be conducted this spring by the 15th Signalling Corps. The flying met with their cameras recently supplied photographs that indicated a great deal of the past. The roadways along which our forefathers must have travelled to this old place of meeting and of human sacrifices. Excavators, following the indications of the photographs, have dug up the earth and found traces of the great road which varies from 10 to 114 ft. wide.

Many Fatal Level Crossing Accidents

Carelessness of Automobile Drivers Shown to Be Largely Responsible

Figures compiled by the operating department of the Canadian National Railways show that during 1925 on the lines of the system there were 63 grade crossing accidents to vehicles in which 40 people lost their lives and 51 were injured. In only nine cases were there no fatalities or injuries.

All but twelve of the accidents happened to automobiles or motor trucks. While it is difficult to place the blame in a large number of cases, the accidents were due largely to carelessness on the part of the drivers of the automobiles.

Lined among the accidents were two in which automobile drivers threw into the tender of engines, three where the automobiles hit the second or third car back of the engine and one where the driver actually crashed into the twentieth car behind the engine and did it with sufficient force to bruise and somewhat injure the occupants of the car as well as damage his machine. No one month was free from crossing accidents, but October, which might indicate the trend toward the end of the motoring season, drivers became more careless in approaching railway crossings.

Alberta Sugar Beets

Production of sugar beets in Alberta last year—the first year of operation—amounted to 41,000 tons, having a value of $235,000.

The sugar plant at Raymond reports a good run and an exceptionally good demand for its products. This year it is expected that the acreage planted to sugar beets will show a considerable increase over that of last year.

Young Girl Linguist Astonishes Diplomats

Acts As Interpreter For Sattaman At Geneva Labor Office

A rose-cheeked young English girl is astonishing the diplomats of five countries in London by the fluency and fluency with which she translates the most technical French and German speeches.

She is Miss M. Curtis, of Goddard's Green, who for the past four years has been in the international labor office at Geneva.

It is her task to attend daily the international eight-hour day conference which is sitting at the ministry of labor, and interpret the speeches for the benefit of foreign delegates.

Every speech in German or French has to be cross interpreted and then reduced to English, and as matters of detail and technical knowledge are constantly cropping up, the work is by no means light. It means that for every speech made Miss Curtis has to make two.

Miss Curtis stands at the back of the speaking station, taking notes in abbreviated long hand—she does not use shorthand—and at the end of the translation gives a rapid interpretation, with only occasional glances at her notebook.

She attributes her gift of tongues to learning Latin at Girton. Another wonderful interpreter at Geneva is Miss Agrest, an English girl who married an Italian, and who is always in demand at League of Nations meetings. She takes no notes, but her memory is so perfect that she can give a faultless interpretation of a long and difficult speech.

"She is the supreme interpreter of Europe," said the Geneva official. "The longer the speech the better she seems to like it."

Names Describing Church Parts Have Been Built Up

The words "church," "altar," "convent," "monastery" are not the same word. Some of them have been built up just anyhow, others are derived from the Latin, and selected weirdly in the process. "Church," for instance, is the word which, just recently, the Latin "ecclesia" is a Greek word which means "the assembly of the people." Artist Made Good Start

Painted Uniform So Well King Agreed To Sit For Portrait

The story of the artist who painted the portrait of King George V. is a story of a young man who, after a long and arduous career, has at last made his mark in the world of art.

The king, unable to give the royal artist a sitting, lent him a field marshal's uniform and decorations with which to garb the model. The king heard the artist had done finely with the figure, and accompanied by Queen Mary, went to Jack's studio in Earl's Court and sat for two hours so that his face could be painted into the portrait from life.

Russo-German Pact

The Berlin newspapers, in commemorating the news that Russia and Germany were negotiating a treaty for closer relations, declare the negotiations were necessary after the London agreement, with a view to supplementing and defining the old Rapallo arrangements. They will not, however, the newspapers insist, in any way violate the League agreement.

Finances In West Improving

The Canadian financial picture is improving, according to K. W. Allan, K.C., of Winnipeg, chairman of the Canadian committee of the Hudson's Bay Company. The company, he says, is spending $5,000,000 at present in extension work in Winnipeg and Vancouver alone.

NATIONAL ARRANGES NEW TOUR TO EUROPE

The rapidly increasing popularity of personally conducted tours has led passenger traffic officials of the Canadian National Railways to organize an educational and historical tour to Great Britain, Holland, Belgium, Switzerland and France. For the past four years this company has conducted a summer tour from Winnipeg to the western cities in the Pacific coast via Prince Rupert, the trip being made by special train with stopovers arranged at all points of interest enroute. With an especial appeal to teachers and other professional men and women, this tour has, with increased success year after year, and numerous requests have been made to the company to arrange similar tours through other districts.

Every year more and more of the travelling public are realizing that the way to get the most out of their trip is to take advantage of these personally conducted expeditions.

Canadian National passenger officials, therefore, have been busy for some months arranging a 42-day personally conducted tour to Europe, to be operated by the company, in conjunction with the Canadian, Anchor-Donaldson line. A special effort has been made to keep the cost as low as possible without lowering the standard of travel. Western Canadian passengers for this trip will leave Winnipeg on July 1 in special cars on the Continental Limited to Montreal, where they will call on the B.S. Atlantic, July 2. The return trip will be made

Immigration to Canada in 1925 totalled 84,907, of which 35,362 was contributed by the British Isles, 17,117 by the United States, and 31,828 by other countries. In addition 39,589 Canadians who had established homes in the United States and resided there for a period longer than six months returned to live in their native land.

A new cash-on-delivery parcels system has been inaugurated at Post Offices all over Great Britain. Parcels valued at the value of £10 (about $155) may now be posted at any post office to any address in Great Britain, the value being collected by the Post Office authorities and remitted to the sender. The system seems to be meeting with success.

Business conditions on the Pacific Coast continue on the upward trend with great activity in construction work. The lumber industry outlook is brighter and there have been important developments in saw-mill construction. The fishing industry is on a better footing, pulp and paper mills are active and additional power programmes are being worked out.

A. M. Johnson, President of the Canadian Club of Boston, visited Montreal for the first time on the new "Redwing" train now running between the two cities on Canadian Pacific lines. In telling of the charitable and naturalization aid given Canadians by the Canadian Club of Boston, Mr. Johnson said there were some 300,000 Canadians in the State of Massachusetts. Of this number 80,000 are in Boston.

Sir Keme Howard, British Ambassador to the United States, stated on his arrival in Toronto on a C.P.R. train that the question of European peace was the most urgent and immediate problem of the day. It was necessary for Great Britain to assist in maintaining peace and the League of Nations offered a suitable vehicle. Sir Keme claimed that if the League disappeared England would be compelled to join some European combination against any country which threatened to dominate the continent.

Manufacturing showed improvement and transportation and construction registered greater expansion than usual.

Recent improvement in Oriental trade is being indicated by the heavy cargoes carried by the last few liners sailing for Japan and China from the Port of Vancouver. Vancouver merchants view the partial recovery in the volume of business being done with China as a sure sign that the country is coming back to normal. This improvement is noted especially in the recent heavy bookings of the Canadian Pacific steamers.
